What is Research Literacy?

Research literacy is the ability to locate, understand, critically evaluate and apply research evidence in professional practice.

Why Teach Research Literacy?

- Graduate practitioners who will:
 - * Design effective therapeutic sessions
 - * Make more informed clinical decisions
 - * Communicate effectively with other health care providers
- Educate students about what the research demonstrates massage can do
- Provide students with critical thinking skills, enabling them to analyze data supporting massage therapy
- Prepare students to access massage therapy research data that their future clients can trust

Use of the curriculum kit helps develop competency in research literacy, one of the standards for accreditation by the Commission on Massage Therapy Accreditation (COMTA).

Take the guesswork out of research curriculum. Order a Massage Therapy Research Curriculum Kit today.

foundation

The AMTA Foundation educates the public about the value of massage. We promote scientific research, sponsor community service projects, and provide educational opportunities.

The Foundation developed the Research Curriculum Kit in order to support schools in their efforts to enhance the quality and credibility of their programs.
